

CLEVER GOATS

English

Once up on a time, a man had two goats , he used to keep them in a goats house and shut the door every evening .

In the morning he opened them and took them to graze.

He used to tether them where there was no enough grass.

As such they never got satisfied.
One night, the goats discussed how to open the and get out to go and find what to eat.

One goat found a way of opening the door. They went out and ate potato vines belonging to that home. After eating they went back to the house and shut the door.

In the morning the man, discovered that his vines had been eaten by some animals, he could not suspect his neighbors goats. In the night, the goats opened and ate the vines.

The following morning the man found the vines eaten, he quarreled and quarreled, he planned to be checking on his vines at night.

In the middle of the night , he came out with a spear, he tip toed towards the goats , aimed and threw the spear.

One goat was speared and they all ran away, the man entered the house.

In the morning he went to check for what he had speared, only to find out that he had speared his own goat.

He was very sorry about the incident.

CLEVER GOATS

Illustration: Rob Owen

Language: English

this story was written by people from Busolwe

© Bukheye mulongo , Alungho Rose

This work is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution
(CC-BY 4.0) Version 4.0 International Licence

Disclaimer: You are free to download, copy, translate or adapt this story and use the illustrations as long as you attribute or credit the original author/s and illustrator/s.

Saide
South African Institute for Distance Education

www.africanstorybook.org
A Saide Initiative